You're funny! I still say you need to get your IT act together - all this confusion about not knowing where to store your secret files...not a good look for a millennial....lol

Ok on the staffing issue; we were talking about some challenges that may occur via a virtual hearing - i.e. not being able to pass him a piece of paper to answer qs. But we can work that out

As an aside, the infrastructure document may go above and beyond the consolidation report, as it is an ask from the committee on ALL needs (in a perfect world) from ORD.

Hey - I asked for 4 budget books to be printed for OCIR - and that count includes you, me, Robin, and the Administrator. Do you think we need more?

For OCFO to print....yes! LOL - they are already complaining....we may need to make it a day in the office to print extras. Let me go back and get a sense from them how they feel once I tell them we are requesting 10. I don't think it will go over well....but will try

Ok - they had already planned to print extras for them - so I will let them know that the extras will be included in OCIR's count for the Dans/Lindsays/Allisons of the world

Nothing in particular, but pay attention to the numbers. It's not like the data can be revised but you want to pay attention to the numbers for awareness' sake

Most of the rest is canned language describing the report
